

Call for Volunteers

IOHA Communication and Marketing Committee

The International Occupational Hygiene Association (IOHA) is seeking passionate volunteers to join its Communication and Marketing Committee.

We are looking for members who are passionate about communicating effectively, engaging our global community, and enhancing IOHA's visibility. This is a great opportunity to contribute to the growth of the organisation while developing your own skills and expanding your professional network.

We are particularly interested in volunteers who:

Have an interest in website development, content management, or digital user experience

Enjoy working with social media platforms (e.g. LinkedIn, Facebook, etc.)

Have skills or a keen interest in communications, marketing, or digital storytelling

Are motivated to collaborate within an international team

What you'll do:

Support the development and ongoing improvement of the IOHA website

Contribute to planning and creating engaging social media content

Assist in promoting IOHA initiatives, events, and resources

Help strengthen communication with IOHA members and stakeholders worldwide

How to express your interest:

Please submit a brief expression of interest outlining your background, skills, and areas of interest to admin@ioha.net.

Interested volunteers must be a member of an IOHA member organization.

Whether you bring experience or simply enthusiasm and a willingness to learn, we encourage you to get involved.

Join us in shaping how IOHA connects with and supports the global occupational hygiene community.
